Creative Process

Describe your creative process for this artwork, techniques, and anything else you would like to share. If you would like to share a timelapse video, you may include that link as well.

I started this illustration by gathering reference pictures to help me plan each element's placement and scale. I found the champagne tower first and knew I wanted to do something with that, so I ultimately ended up depicting a wedding. I also wanted to draw something that makes me happy. After sketching, I color-blocked starting from the background then moving to the foreground, beginning with the sky, trees, and building, and then moving to the floral arrangements, table, and couple. Then, I focused on adding texture and shading, especially to the flowers, cake, and champagne glasses.
